

To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter as my personal recommendation for Stephen Kasper. From 2009-2012, Stephen was under my immediate supervision as a soldier in F. Co, of the 429 Brigade Support Battalion. During his time with me he showed the ability to lead, as well as follow, within every responsibility asked of him.

The military demands mental, physical and emotional strength – all of which have been displayed in Stephen's work. He has led numerous missions both effectively and safely. Stephen has served in several positions of leadership over other soldiers and has always demonstrated respect and integrity. Over the years he has shown incredible team work, the ability to learn quickly, and initiative to work without supervision.

Not only was Stephen an incredible asset to our unit, but to the entire US Army as well. I believe any organization would be fortunate to have him and I highly recommend him for employment.

Sincerely,
